THE ARISTO-CRAFT SD-45 IS BACK IN STOCK!

The Aristo-Craft ART22400 Series SD-45 was a breakthrough locomotive for Aristo-Craft when it was first released. Its advanced features proved to be great attributes for G-Gauge hobbyists over time. After a long wait, the SD-45s are finally back in stock again.

The SD-45 is a super-detailed locomotive and features a plug-and-play port, new smoke unit, and the new PrimeMover three-axle gearbox.

The new gearbox features triple size gears for more pulling power and is the first three-axle gearbox that is equally geared all three axles. This unit was a high-volume seller for Aristo-Craft and established a standard of excellence as evidenced in all of the follow-up locos we have made.

The SD-45 has withstood the test of time and is still a favorite of those that owned one or more of them. It's time to bring them back for all of the newbies that were not in the hobby when this item was introduced and we're sure a new generation of hobbyists will fall in love with it anew.

The SD-45 is a large locomotive that needs at least an 8' diameter track to look right. We're dealing with a mainline locomotive that usually runs in consists

ART22405 SD-45 DIESEL - UNION PACIFIC	480.00 MSRP
ART22406 SD-45 DIESEL - ERIE LACKAWANA	480.00 MSRP
ART22409 SD-45 DIESEL - PRR	480.00 MSRP
ART22413 SD-45 DIESEL - CP RAIL	480.00 MSRP
ART22425 SD-45 DIESEL - GN	480.00 MSRP

with several locos together pulling hundreds of cars. Add our Revolution M.U. concept to this lash-up and you can pull up tree stumps.

The SD-45 with our gearing system is the best of the best and runs as smooth as a Swiss watch. Yet, you can program this unit with our Revolution to take an hour to only go one inch. Or you can change the momentum to start the longest of consists in a realistic manner.

The super detailing coupled with our usual high-grade artwork makes this locomotive a classic that should be part of everyone's collection and will likely be the workhorse of the layout. This is no shelf queen, but a hard worker that takes on all challenges of pulling the largest consists you have.

Aristo-Craft went through a several-year legal battle, where all of our time and resources were involved. We won the battle and the SD-45 was the result of built-up ideas that came out of the starting gate. The Dash 9, E-8 and the GP-40 were all based on the technology involved first in the SD-45.

The SD-45s are in stock now.

The Revolution Train Engineer - Easy Yet Powerful

Aristo-Craft Trains looked at a way of expanding the G Gauge train market and decided that a R/C system that provided full motor control of locos that did not require a signal through the track would go a long way to expanding the marketplace. A radio control signal going directly to a receiver in the locomotive would eliminate the dirty track and conductivity problems that are generic to operating model trains out of doors. The kind of control that has re-energized the smaller scales, but that could operate with battery or track power would go a long way to making the operation of G Gauge trains truly realistic.

In the past several years, a new technology of 2.4 GHz wireless control has dominated the model field and it was time to move the glitch free capabilities to the model train market. 2.4 GHz wireless has dominated most new technology in the computer field and the success there has driven price and capabilities down to an affordable level that we could now take advantage of. Aristo-Craft straddles both markets and has Radio Frequency engineers on staff and provides a bridge between the normally separate market places. Not only did we understand the potential of the new frequency, but also how to maximize the usage of two-way signaling between the transmitter and receiver.

Aristo-Craft did not have to purchase a ready made module used in another field, but conceived and engineered a product distinctively for model trains. We took a chip from Texas Instruments and designed the architecture and programming from scratch to do what was needed. Aristo-Craft included:

- Momentum
- 1024 steps of speed,
- MUing (multiple units) of up to 6 locomotives
- Direction change delay settings
- 400' + range
- A short 1 1/2" receiver antenna
- Backlit screen
- All setting choices shown on the screen without having to memorize value settings
- Controls up to 50 locomotives and/or switches, is totally wireless
- Fits in your shirt pocket or can be clipped to your belt for easy access
- Large keys for big hands and tired eyes

In other words we achieved the full control of your locomotives on your layout and made it easy to accomplish. The manual is short and after a few uses is rarely viewed again as the screen settings are there to remind you. Being able to battery power your trains eliminates most of the track maintenance issues with running trains out of doors. The product has been alpha and beta tested before release, so it's a mature product from day one.

The components are top grade and will last many thousands of uses without repairs and the loco settings will be retained for years even with the batteries removed. Sound systems are easily added and soon we will have accessory receivers to trigger things like crossing gates and environmental sounds with activation by the transponding between the receiver and the transmitter.

The key feature was the ability to add and drop locomotives from a multiple usage consist and have all of the trains work in harmony to pull long setups just as the real trains do. An elegant and easy to use system was implemented that was both functional and easy to understand by the casual train hobbyist that met all of the needs required. Each locomotive can be individually tuned to the group of locos and then added to the consist. Pusher locos in the rear of the consist can be added or dropped as needed and even midway pushers can be easily added to the consist. We individually name each loco and allow the usage of the road number to easily identify each locomotive in the linking process.

In short, a program "So easy even a caveman can do it" (Slogan courtesy of Geico) and an ergonomic design that is easy to use makes the Revolution Train Engineer an indispensable asset to the garden railroader.

The Aristo-Craft Revolution Train Engineer will be available later this year.

Aristo-Craft/Crest Switching Power Supplies

CRE-55465 ELITE SWITCHING POWER SUPPLY

CRE-55468 EVEREST 15-AMP POWER SUPPLY

Switching power supplies use electronic components to supply a clean current to your track as compared to the copper-wound transformers that have been used for most of the past century. As a result, the switching supplies can come in a compact package that is more efficient than the huge monoliths needed to supply similar current.

The Aristo-Craft CRE55465 Elite with multi-selectable voltages, the CRE55468 Everest with 24v and 15 amps, and the new CRE55466 Jewel at 5 amps and 18v all come with accurate metering and selectable to 110v or 230v input depending on the country where used.

These are called regulated power supplies and this means clean current that will not affect DCC signaling and will supply more power going up grades and less going down grades. Clearly, these are most suitable for powering your trains in a 21st century style and with performance to match. We recommend the use of power track clamps like the ART11930 rail clamp, especially on curves, to insure a continuity of current that is important to good running trains.

Aristo-Craft does have a 10 Amp controller to work with any of the above or a 15 Amp version specifically for the Everest. Any of these units will work as a power source for our Revolution Train Engineer system without the need for a controller. If a controller was to be used it needs to be turned up to its highest power, so a direct connection to the tracks is the best choice.

Track power is by far the most used method of running trains and Aristo-Craft Crest wants to supply you with the very best type of power possible. These units have become standard bearers for the past several years and have been built specifically to work well with out trains. Our repair department rarely sees these units back for maintenance and we have had nothing but compliments on it on our forum. It's built to an industrial strength standard, not a "toy train" power supply only and will outlast the 5-year warranty we supply.

ECLSTS Returns This March!

by Harry Hartman

Harry Hartman is the Large Scale Show Manager for the East Coast Large Scale Train Show.

Well, this is the month many of you have been waiting for: March. Hmmm.... Let's see. What might be going on in the month of March that all of you reading this article might be interested in. Oh yeah! It is the Spring ECLSTS for 2009!

We have been busy contacting vendors and seminar presenters and it is all starting to come together. We have contacted many media outlets with information about the Spring ECLSTS. I know we are going to have some new people there because of the questions that have been coming in from these media contacts.

One question seems to be coming in more than any other question. That question is "Is this show open to the public?" I guess these new people associate the York Fairgrounds with the one large "members only" show that is held there. So I very quickly tell them that it is open to the public and tell all their friends. I have said this before-- If you belong to a club, you should take a picture of some of your members discussing the ECLSTS and put an article in your local newspaper about the Large Scale Train Show your club is going to attend. Not only will it help generate some more people to attend the show to help it grow, but it will give you a chance to tell about your club and maybe gain some new members. Here is the important part, your local postmark generates more attention than does our 200 plus miles away postmark would.

We have photos of what the show cars will look like when you go to purchase them at the show only. Remember, no mail orders and no phone calls to hold them till you get there. They are great-looking double door box cars.

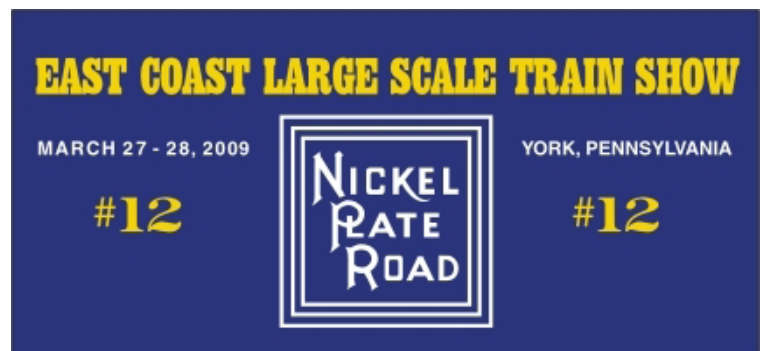

Remember they each come in 5 different road numbers and both designs will be available at the show. They will come with metal wheels at the fantastic price of $50.00 each. Since we had some of the MWLSTS engines left over, we will have some of them available for purchase at the show. These are beautiful looking engines.

This year's t-shirts look fantastic. A nice blue shirt with yellow and white lettering. Purchase yours as soon as you get to the show. Once they are gone, they are gone. Yes, we will have our famous "Still Plays with Trains" shirts and hats.

See you at the show this March 27th and 28th!

2009 SPRING ECLSTS Seminar Schedule: FRIDAY
(Doors Open at 9:00 A.M.)9:30 A.M. - 10:30 A.M. Ricky Rupp of Modern Rails Graphics

This year Ricky will be talking about prepping the model for decal application as well as installing Modern Rails G-Cals Decals on a USA Trains Outside braced wooden boxcar. It will be decorated in WAG-Wellsville Addison & Galetton Railroad. There will be a question and answer period as well. Participants can actually watch as Ricky water slides the decals onto this car. By uneven application, Ricky will be installing decals between the raised braces on the model. One side of the car will be finished as usual so participants may see a finished side of the car.

10:45 A.M. - 12:30 P.M. David Bodnar (This seminar is for 90 minutes)

Aristo Craft's new Train Engineer Revolution has the potential to completely revolutionize the way that we operate our large scale trains. From the start the Revolution was designed to allow you to spend more time running your trains and less time dealing with complex, non-intuitive control systems. Come and see how this remarkable system was developed and how it makes operating trains a snap!

12:30 P.M. - 1:30 P.M. Jerry Chapman of Split Jaw Products INC.

"Keep Those Trains Running - 5 Steps to a Reliable Running Railroad" - Jerry will cover how to build a well running reliable railroad using Split Jaw Products. This talk is geared to new people getting into the hobby and it will cover power supply selection, wiring, road bed preparation, track selection and much more.

1:45 P.M. - 3:15 P.M. David Bodnar (This seminar is for 90 minutes)

Add interest and excitement to your railway with microcontrollers and other inexpensive electronic devices. Learn how to build and program a microcontroller that can automate sounds, lights, switch motors and engines. An assortment of unique electronic devices and controls will be presented.

3:30 P.M. - 4:30 P.M. QSI Solutions (At the QSI Booth)

"Installing Sound in an Aristocraft G Scale Locomotive" - QSI Solutions will demonstrate how easy it is to install a Sound Decoder in a G Scale Locomotive.

Ongoing Seminar All Day Bob Temper(At the back of the layout hall to the right of the Food Concession area)

"Figure Making" - Make your railroad come to life with figures unique to your display. Bob Temper of Gateway Garden Railroads Club in St. Louis, MO will be demonstrating how to sculpt your own figures doing what you want them to do in the scale that fits your railroad. He will be demonstrating the techniques developed by noted sculptor Chris Walas to create figures using aluminum foil armatures as a base for polymer clay sculptures. Materials and tools are inexpensive and easy to use. Bob has been having fun with this process since 2005.

VIEWERS RESPOND TO "HOW MODEL TRAINS ARE MADE"!

Aristo-Craft's DVD "How Model Trains Are Made" shipped to customers in December and has been warmly received by hobbyists since its release.

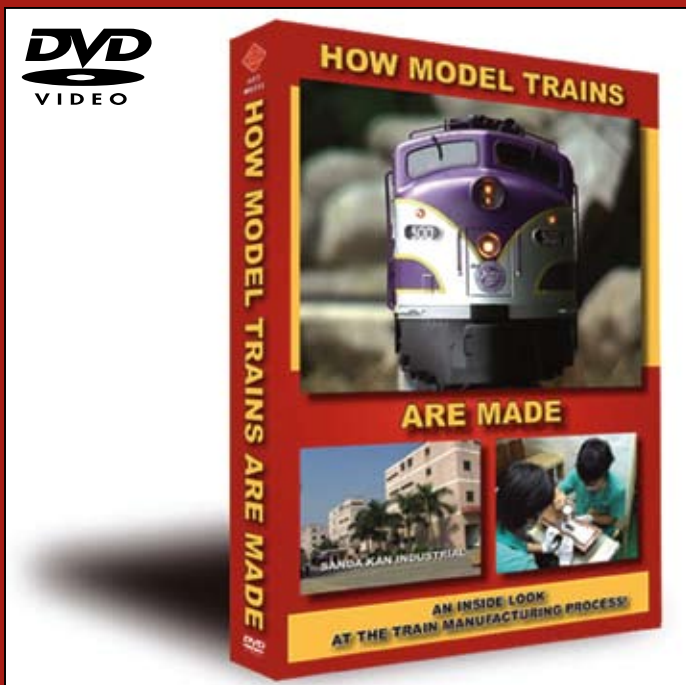

The DVD takes viewers on a behind-the-scenes look at the model train manufacturing process. Viewers travel from Aristo-Craft headquarters in New Jersey to the Sanda Kan factory in China and then back again.

It was a hot topic for discussion on the Aristo-Craft Forum. Harry Hartman posted in one thread, "I received my DVD a week before Christmas and have watched it three times. I saw bits and pieces of the raw footage at the [train] shows... Really makes you appreciate your trains even more!"

Model Railroad News also gave the DVD a good review in its February 2009 issue, calling it, "enjoyable and certainly fascinating."

The "How Model Trains Are Made" DVD is available now. Order your copy today!

HOW MODEL TRAINS ARE MADE - THE DVD

Model railroading is an exciting hobby with millions of enthusiasts. However, few people know exactly what goes into model train manufacturing.

“How Model Trains Are Made” is a new and exciting DVD that takes viewers on an around-the-world trip to see the complex process of building a train from conception to completion.

Lewis Polk and Scott Polk of Aristo-Craft Trains lead this exciting and informative tour to Sanda Kan, one of the world's largest model train factories, located in China.

Every aspect of the production process is covered in this video: Engineering, metal mold building, painting, detail printing, assembly, electronics, product testing, and track manufacturing.

Whether you are an experienced model railroader or you are starting off with your very first loco, “How Model Trains Are Made” is a fascinating video that should be a part of every model railroader's collection!
