Volume 20 • No.2

March–April 2012

It's That Time Of The Year Again!

Has spring sprung yet? I see some of my bulbs popping through the ground already. Did we really have winter? I know Ron Wenger used to tease me about living so deep in West Virginia that it took a 10-mule team to pull my truck out to “good roads” during the winter. We have had a very mild winter here. The Farmer's Almanac held true to its predictions. Well I know you did not stop by here to read about my winter and my flowers and how they are growing. Your eyes stopped at this article to read about one of your favorite events of the year, the SPRING ECLSTS! Yes it is getting to be that time of year when many of the garden railroaders start thinking about getting their garden railways ready for the spring, summer and early fall seasons. I just came back from being in Florida for about a week and it never got below 60 degrees, so many living there can railroad all year long.

The Spring ECLSTS is the Largest G Scale only train show in the USA. If you are looking for something in particular for your empire, you most likely can find it at the ECLSTS. The MAJOR manufacturers will be there and you can ask them questions about their products as well as see many of their NEW lines that are available now. If you had a question about a product you already have or something they are coming out with, I am sure you can find the answers to all your questions at this show. We will have a new club displaying for the Spring ECLSTS—the Pocono Mt. Garden Railroad Club. Make sure you drop by their display and make them feel welcome as well as all the other clubs that attend and display. There is a lot of hard work that goes into sitting up their displays and get them running so smoothly each show. I am always amazed at how quickly the empty hall transforms into hall of huge smiles and the sounds of trains running then comes the excitement of the adults and kids that stop by to look at each display, both modular and floor.

We have 5 new vendors at the 2012 Spring show and of those 5 were also at the 2011 Fall ECLSTS. We hope you will bring some of your friends with you and tell each and every vendor you are glad they made the choice to attend the Spring ECLSTS. We have vendors coming from all parts of the United States and Canada. Boxes after boxes of trains and accessories for every aspect of garden railroading will be available

The Production Cost Is Just The Beginning

Dear All Aristonauts:

The piece price of a model train is only the first cost. If an item cost's $200,000 for the mold and you only make 2,000, than the mold cost needs to be apportioned out at $100 each. This is not a good business model and we wish that was the only cost, In addition we need to spend on average $5,000 for each of the paint scheme masks and pads or $50,000 on average for each run. We had also paid and average $20,000 for engineering drawings to make the reverse drawings needed to make the molds.

We need to make packaging artwork and foam molds to safely enclose the item, which runs about $10,000 per model. Of course, we need to pay $5,000 per container to deliver the product from China to the U.S. and then $500 for delivery to our warehouse from the port.

That is what goes into a first cost, but it's just the beginning!

The day a container arrives we need a crew to unload the container and more people to put the shipment on to shelving. We need to pay several thousand dollars a month for rent, taxes, heat and electricity, plus warehouse maintenance and payrolls for 10 people that keep us running. Than there's the ever-present advertising and Internet costs as well as trade shows. We also pay freight to the dealer to even the cost around the country and this is becoming more and more burdensome year by year.

All and all it's not a business model that others try to copy and most business people are aghast about! We're not worried about new competition and it would take 10 times the business we do to make it into a real business. So...why do we do it? ARISTO-CRAFT was doing better until the depression hit and we hope to do better again when the housing market recovers at some point in the future. For now we find the market challenging and we hope to survive in spite of many other small businesses closing down.

China is still the best place to make a production line item as APPLE COMPUTER found out when they went to make the iPod, iPhone and iPad. Our own work is mostly hand crafted and we do not make the same item every day. It's short run production and China does this best.

So, back to my point—what is the real cost of the product. It can only be a guestimate and considering the size of the business, do we want to spend a lot of time calculating such a figure. We certainly do spreadsheet estimates, but the variable is selling quantity. With rising first costs in a declining economy, it's a very complicated figure. We have never raised our prices more than what we're being charged by the first cost maker of our products and that does not encompass the other secondary costs we have spent over the years.

We added O Gauge trains to spread the overhead over a larger base and that has helped. Most companies in the train business use more than one scale for the same cost sharing reasons. It's not that G Gauge is any less of a passion than before, but O Gauge is a compatible market to sell into.

It's complicated, but we haven't dropped or changed our standards at any time regardless of the challenges. The talk about a move back to the U.S. is not practical in a tiny market as model trains and it's quantity that drives this decision. Just be thankful that Sol Kramer of LIFE-LIKE and W.S. Ting of SANDA KAN envisioned a combined factory for a multitude of U.S. makers in China, that allowed this miracle to even happen in China.

for purchase at this show. Seminars are another part that make these shows great to attend. You have companies putting on seminars/clinics about their products as well as individuals sharing their techniques with people who attend the shows.

Another exciting part of this show is meeting people for all parts of the WORLD that attends the ECLSTS. We have people flying in from Germany, England, Ireland, Australia and Canada. As stated before, these shows are an event looked forward to each year. The photograph albums come out and groups get together to exchange ideas during the shows and after the shows. The information exchange continues during dinner and back at the hotel. If you have not been to an ECLSTS, you need to get to one as soon as you can.

Remember, this year the show engine is a Pittsburgh PCC in the red, white and blue paint scheme with two different destination boards. As we always tell you, make sure you arrive early to make sure you get your Show engine for 2012. No mail orders, no phone orders, no email orders. You have to come purchase it or have a friend purchase it for you.

The 2012 ECLSTS Show tee shirt is all white with the PCC in its red, white and blue design. If you look close enough you can find the show number. This 2012 ECLSTS is our 17th show.

On the next page, you will find the list of vendors that have committed to the Spring ECLSTS. This list will probably change by the time the show opens so to get the up to the date list, be sure and check out and the ARISTO-CRAFT Forum at

<http://goo.gl/gLheF>

<http://goo.gl/t05OB>

Both will have the up to date show information. Check there for the list of times and topics for seminars for the Spring 2012 show.

We hope to see you at the show. It will be an exciting time for all.

OK Aristo-Nauts. Here is what many of you have been waiting for: The 2012 Vendor List for the ECLSTS!

As of today (March 14, 2012), this is the list of vendors that have committed to exhibiting at this month's show. As in the past, I will change from time to time. Updates may be viewed at our website:

<http://goo.gl/HnUFx>

If you don't see your favorite vendor listed here, you may want to call and encourage them to come to the show.

Also, be sure to thank those vendors for coming to the show. Let them know you are glad they came.

When you attend the show, make sure you tell the vendors you are glad they came to the show.

Remember to tell your friends about this show and bring some new people with you. It is truly amazing to hear someone tell me, "Well I never heard of that show."

If you have a vendor you would like to see at the show, please contact them and encourage them to request a vendors registration form from jjproductions@atlanticbb.net

From Bloomingdale's To Irvington . . . And Beyond

I started out working at a very traditional retailer (Bloomingdale's in New York City), where I met my wife Maryann who was working at the same time.

I worked six days and two nights each week and the public came to the store to shop for clothing, kitchenware, and many other staple items of life. Of course they could arrive by subway or bus in one of the world's largest cities and had UPS to ship their purchases home. Carrying purchase on the bus or subway was a challenge unless you made many short trips that could be easily transported in Bloomingdale's famous "Brown Bag."

I attended one of the very few graduate programs for retailing in America at N.Y.U., and the Internet was not even a glimmer in Al Gore's mind at that time. Now, stores can be on every computer and delivered to every mailbox or porch in America within a day. Many, if not most, products lend themselves to Internet marketing and there is no limit to descriptions available or even videos and live chat to help you make a purchase. Not only that, worldwide selling helps make the world smaller and anyone anywhere can avail themselves of the latest and greatest!

This truly makes the world smaller and charge cards allow for currencies to be applied to purchases anywhere in the world. Charge cards can vary their rates by the hour and allow for a common payment anywhere to anywhere in the blink of an eye.

Our retailers can show our products in full and sell boldly knowing our reputation for service will support the sales they make. This is very important in a very tiny small niche market, since most of the selling is now done on the Internet instead of over the counter for this type of market. We also host a forum, where consumers can share experiences and experience with a like interest group who has tackled similar situations.

Common use products are more easily sold in big-box stores and specialty items in wide selection stores and that will always remain the best outlet for sales. However, with the cost of gas always on the rise and our time being split too many ways, the Internet will continue to evolve into a time saving and cost saving efficient way to shop for and find products not next to your neighborhood's availability.

I realize brick and mortar shops have overhead that give Internet retailers an advantage, but that doesn't mean the brick and mortar stores can't supplement their sales with Internet sales too. The advantage Internet stores really have is that they get paid immediately from a wide range of people that can be many thousands of miles away.

Frankly, we had a 5-story shop on Fifth Avenue in New York City that required a phone operator, elevator operator at that time and staff on every floor. We had to inventory the stock each month and estimate what would be needed for the next month. I've heard of hobby stores that so disliked this process that they would keep a year's supply on hand instead of the more normal two to three month's worth. The Internet and computers mean that you can operate more efficiently, but our problem is that we have to maintain a six-month supply as that is our re-supply cycle from China.

So...the challenges to the marketing of product is a long way from when I started and why I'm mostly retired at this point. We will use the e-mail contacts of the Internet to keep you informed, but please keep abreast of our forums, website and web page during the year.

All the best,

Lewis Polk

Whether you model standard gauge or narrow gauge, American or European, ATSF or PRR, there is one thing every model railroader has in common and that is track. Aristo-Craft Trains prides itself on bringing you the best track and track accessories for your large-scale model railroad layout.

Aristo-Craft Track is based on years of development and quality testing to meet the needs of even the most demanding modeler. With European or USA-style track, brass or stainless steel rail, 13 lengths of curve track, 6 lengths of straight track, 9 types of switches, and a whole host of accessories and add-ons, Aristo-Craft is your one-stop shop for all your track needs.

Aristo-Craft Track is made with three things in mind: conductivity, durability, and ease of use. We use metals that provide you with efficient electrical current, reducing the amount of track cleaning you need to do. Every piece of our track is strong and durable, allowing it to survive outdoors in the harshest of conditions. Plus, with the screw/rail-joiner system, Aristo-Craft Track goes together securely and quickly. With Aristo-Craft, you'll spend more time enjoying your railroad and less time maintaining it.

Don't forget popular accessories like the Aristo-Craft Lighted Bumper, Reversing Unit System, and Track Cleaning Car to give your railroad extra functionality and realism!

For whatever type of railroad you are building, Aristo-Craft has your answer with its full line of track products and accessories!

THE REVOLUTION TRAIN ENGINEER

THE WIRELESS "REVOLUTION" IS COMING!

Get ready for the most advanced model railroad control system on the market, the CRE-57000 Train Engineer Revolution by Aristo-Craft Trains. With all-new features and 21st-century technology, this newest version of the Train Engineer will be the perfect fit for hobbyists everywhere.

- Wireless locomotive radio control for indoor and outdoor layouts. Bi-directional communication between TX and RX.
- Glitch-free, fast 2.4 Ghz (DSSS) transmission!
- Large LCD screen with backlight for night operation or in low light areas.
- Easy-to-hold transmitter! Input data is handled like cell phone texting using the handheld's keyboard.
- No codes to memorize. All functions available on screen in simple English.
- Direct control of up to 50 locomotives or accessories.
- All programming is done in the transmitter and then down-linked to the receiver/decoder.
- Multiple group codes, so your "all stop" command will only affect all locos in your group or selectively all trains operating on the layout.
- Operates either with onboard battery or track power.
- Excellent 300' indoor range and 500' outdoor range is beyond the line of sight of any locomotive on any size layout.
- Speed settings are programmable up to 1,024 steps for incremental control beyond anything conceived in DCC and allows for totally prototypical switching techniques.
- Plug and play installation on Aristo-Craft locos.
- Superior 5-Year Warranty!
